

I LIVE

Musica e testo di Giuliano Montori

I live where the time flows away
I live when my eyes rest on you I live in all the wasted love
I found in my life

I live where the love is gone
I live where a man walks alone,
I live when losing you... is all I can do

And If you lost everything you still have time to change your life and when the dark will lay on your bed you'll know the sun will rise again

I live where the night is long I live when I'm lost inside the fog I live where I smell the pain in someone else's bed

And If you lost everything
This is the right time to change your life
and when the dark will lay on your bed
you'll know the sun will rise again

I closed my eyes to hear your voice again I've always wanted something more but all those days are gone away and you can never make them stay

And If you lost everything
This is the right time to change your life
and when the dark will lay on your bed
you'll know the sun will rise again
